

Basic Detail Report

Title: TRACE ELEMENTS

Date: 2004

Medium: Oil and collage on panel

Description: German text, astronomical map, a household iron, spots of varying colors voyage, n. 1 an act of traveling, a journey or passage, by which one goes from one place to another

 2 [Literature] "I was just beginning to hope for an easy voyage . . ." (Elisha Kent Kane, Arctic Explorations, 1856)
 3 [Literature] "The round trip from home back to home again constitutes the 'voyage' . . ." (Frank Thomas Bullen, Sea-Wrack, 1903)
 4 [Literature] "Blocks and stones our ghostly enemies cast in the narrow way that leadeth to heaven, to hinder our voyage." (Thomas Wright, The Passions of the Minde, 1604)
 5 [Literature] "Bound on a voyage of awful length, . . A stranger to superior strength, Man vainly trusts his own." (William Cowper, Human Frailty, 1779) journey, n. 1 a continued course of going, having its beginning and end in place or time

 2 a mode of progression to a certain place
 3 [Literature] "This life . . . is a journey, or rather one stage of our journey through matter." (Abraham Tucker, The Light of Nature Pursued, 1834)

 constellation, n. 1 a configuration of stars within a region of the celestial sphere that have guided people for thousands of years as they journeyed throughout the earth
 2 [Literature] "He turns not back who is bound to a star." (Leonardo da Vinci, ?????????)

Dimensions: Overall: 71.1 x 64.8 cm (28 x 25 1/2")