

A watercolor illustration of a person sitting on a log in a forest stream, with the title 'BATH THROUGH THE FIERCE JIFFERWOOD' written below. The scene is a dense forest with tall trees and a stream. A person is sitting on a log in the stream, and a small boat is visible in the background. The title is written in a stylized font at the bottom of the illustration.

Basic Detail Report

Title: PATH THROUGH THE FIELDS

Date: 1895

Primary Maker: com.gallerysystems.emuseum.core.entities.RecordXPerson@f941

Medium: Colored etching

Description: A primitive bridge made out of planks of wood spans a small body of water in the foreground of the image. The bridge connects on the shore to an earthen path and on the right a youthful figure sits with one leg tucked up and one leg dangling in the water. The path continues between grasses to the middle ground where a stick fence can be seen on both the left and the right. A tree with three birds flying above is in the left background.

Dimensions: 8.9 x 6 cm (3 1/2 x 2 3/8") (Image) Overall: 17.8 x 15.2 cm (7 x 6")